Summary

Jack and Annie are back in the Magic Tree House, this time on a mission to rescue the great magician, Harry Houdini. Houdini has been kidnapped by an evil wizard, and it's up to Jack and Annie to find him and bring him back safely.

The children travel to 1894 London, where they must navigate the bustling streets and find a way to contact Houdini. They encounter a variety of characters along the way, including a friendly cab driver, a mysterious woman, and a group of street urchins. With each new encounter, Jack and Annie learn more about Houdini and his amazing abilities.

As they get closer to finding Houdini, Jack and Annie realize that the wizard who kidnapped him is more powerful than they could have ever imagined. The wizard has trapped Houdini in a magical prison, and it will take all of Jack and Annie's courage and ingenuity to free him.

In a thrilling climax, Jack and Annie face off against the wizard in a battle of magic and wits. With the help of Houdini, they are able to defeat the wizard and rescue him from his prison.
