About Tariq Ramadan

Tariq Ramadan is a renowned Swiss Muslim scholar, philosopher, and writer. He is a professor of Contemporary Islamic Studies at the University of Oxford and the director of the Center for Islamic Legislation and Ethics (CILE). Ramadan is a prolific author and has written numerous books and articles on Islam, including "Islamic Creed," "Islam and the West," and "What I Believe."

Exploring the Core Beliefs of Islam

Islamic Creed is a comprehensive guide to the fundamental beliefs of Islam, as revealed in the Quran and explained by leading Islamic scholars. Tariq Ramadan presents a clear and accessible account of the six articles of faith: belief in God, His angels, His books, His messengers, the Last Day, and divine decree.

Through insightful commentary and thought-provoking reflections, Ramadan invites readers to engage with the core tenets of Islam. He examines the nature of God's existence, the role of prophets and messengers, the significance of revelation, and the importance of eschatology.

Islamic Creed is not merely an academic treatise; it is a spiritual guide that helps readers deepen their understanding and strengthen their faith. Ramadan weaves together Quranic verses, hadith (sayings of the Prophet Muhammad), and contemporary scholarship to provide a holistic perspective on Islamic belief.
